Introduction

Our decorative cast bronze and iron kitchen hardware is made by remaking the moulds of 1870 to 1900 original antique pieces. The bronze is not lacquered and will acquire an aged patina; the iron is clear coated to prevent rusting.

Our plain iron hardware is made from original antiques dating from 1865 and before. Our ceramic cupboard knobs also date from that same time.

Glass knobs were in use as early as 1840 and were popular until the pre-war era of the early 1940's. Plain hardware made in unlacquered brass, polished nickel, and antique copper finishes date from 1900 to 1940.

Our bar themed cabinet knobs are new designs. They are mounted with single posts screwed in from the inside of the door or drawer.

*All pulls, knobs, handles, and latches in this section are sold individually.
